COVERED WAGON RACKET UNCOVERED

The Senate Sub-Investigation Committee of the House of Unamerican Activities Sub-Investigating Committee of the United Daughters of the Ladies Aid Auxiliary has just made public its recent investigation of a Covered and Uncovered Wagon Racket Menace to all American males (pro and con) of the United States and Texas. These findings which affect (or is it effect) the life of every woman, man, child, dog, horse, mule, skunk, rattler, and Armstrong student were disclosed at the United Daughters last meeting. The President of the UD, who looked stunning in her home-spun gingham dress, called the meeting to order to inform the members of the committee's findings, just then, however, a covered wagon drove by creating such a racket that the covered wagon racket could not be uncovered until the covered wagon quit making the racket. When the covered wagon quit making racket there was no covered wagon racket to be uncovered. So the members decided not to uncover the covered wagon racket, but to let the covered wagon racket remain covered for reasons of social influence caused by wagon coverers.

JESSE JAMES STILL WANTED IN SEVEN STATES

WARNING:
BOTH HIM AND GUN
LOADED!!

Bad man Jessie James Kehoe, alias Jolly Jim Kehoe, alias the Smiling Scandinavian, is still being sought in seven states. These states are: the state of Confusion, the state of Disorder, the state of Chaos, the state of Havoc, the state of Despair, the State Theatre, and the state of the union.

More important than wanting Jessie, these states want his still. Ever since the revenue agents cleaned out the shiners in these parts, good old mountain dew has become scarce. Since Jessie James has the only still this side of Chittlin Switch, it is vital that his still be found.

Some people doubt Jessie has a Still. Still others say Jessie has a still. In order to get the public's opinion on this all-important question of "still or no still" the Gaston Gazette is conducting a still poll. Simply state in 32 volumes or less why you believe, or don't believe, Jessie James' still exists. Then print your name and address on a twenty dollar bill, remember-neatness counts. The contest closes at midnight, February 31, 1918. The indecision of the judges is permanent. (Smile podnah its the end)

LOCAL SALOONS ORDERED CLOSED

Fort Armstrong's two local saloons, the Golden Slipper Nook and the Last Chance Dump, were pad-locked by the sheriff's office. Carlton Mackey, owner of the Last Chance, said his place was closed because of the shady characters hanging around the place. These characters had given the two bar maids, Liz Morris and Katherine Walker, some trouble and they hit "Dead Eye Bruce" and "Wild Bill Williamson" over the head with a couple of bottles. "Dead Eye" fell into the crap game table just as Tom Strozier was shooting the dice. Tom and the other members of the game, Harmon Zeigler and Al Winters, got mad and started shooting up the joint. One of the bullets struck the stage where a few of the girls were in the middle of the Can-Can. The chorus, made up of Lucie Butler, Jackie Lewis and Jo-Ann Roukos, started slinging chairs around until one of the chairs crashed over the head of Silent Sapp who was quietly reading a copy of the Inkwell under a table. Silent pulled out his 45 caliber walking cane (thats about the size of it) and calmly wrecked the joint. The sheriff and his boys arrived and threw all in the cooler.

THE INKWELL

SPORTS

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

Sam Crovatt, Tommy Stro Gerald Eason rapped their way to take the first wins in the annual Ping Pong Tournament. The tournament which is a double elimination, allowing each team to lose twice, has sixteen entries.

The first intramural softball game was played in Forsyth Park on April 11 with the Gators battling the Terrapins. The game rocked along smoothly until the fourth inning when the Gators exploded for six runs. The Terrapins were unable to overcome this lead and the Gators went on to take the softball victory by a score of 15-9. Chris Russell, Al Wink and George Griley laced 4 baggers for the winners as John Piechocinski rapped out 2 for the losers.

WOMEN'S INTRAMURALS

Every Thursday the Y. W. C. swimming pool is open to any Armstrong students and faculty at 4:30 to 5:30 for a recreational swim. Relax from the pains of school and come for an afternoon of pleasure.

The first softball game is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at 4:00 in Forsyth Park. Y'all come!

Competition between the teams for ping pong championship will begin on April 7. Eliminations within the teams are being held.

CLUB NEWS

Those who attended the Spring Retreat at Bessie Tift on April 23 and 24 were Jane Allen, JoAnne Dewberry, Carlton Mackey, Joan LeCroy, Lois McKethan, Nancy Cordray, Mary Foughner, Bruce Grant, and Nick Flores.

The B.S.U. Manual will be studied on May 5 and 6 at First Baptist Church to orientate the new officers, who will be installed at a banquet on May 7 at the Reverend Aubrey Hawkins, State Secretary of the B.S.U., will be the guest speaker.

The Math Club will award to the outstanding freshman student in mathematics a copy of CRC Mathematical Tables. The award, presented to colleges and universities throughout the United States by the Chemical Rubber Company of Cleveland, Ohio, is given as an achievement recognition. A special committee composed of Math Department instructors and two representatives of the Math Club will select the student to get the award and will in near future present the award at a regular student assembly.

Barbara Cheek was elected to serve as President of the Science Club for next year and will take over the reigns from President Don McKenzie at the last official meeting of this quarter. Mary Drawdy was elected Senate Representative for 1954-55.
